SPRING COMMENCEMENT

Friday, May the Ninth
Two Thousand Twenty-Five
Bagwell Field at Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium™
Greenville, North Carolina

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

For the benefit of our visitors, the following information, digested from An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide prepared by the American Council on Education, may prove helpful in identifying the costumes you will see in the Commencement Procession.

In the procession, first come the speakers, trustees, administrative officers, candidates for honorary degrees and other members of the platform party, then the faculty, and finally the candidates for degrees arranged in the order in which the degrees are to be conferred.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into the earliest days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors of the University of Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges prescribed the wearing of a long gown. When American colleges and universities desired to adopt some suitable system of academic apparel, a conference held at Columbia University in 1895, made up of representatives from various institutions, drew up a By-law, Regulation, or Statute for the establishment of a suitable code of academic dress for colleges and universities in the United States. This code, with modifications made in 1959 by the Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies of the American Council on Education, is still in force; the costumes and colors, trimmings and patterns you will see are all traditional, and interpret both the degree and field of learning. The bachelor's gown, designed to be worn closed, has pointed sleeves, and the master's gown, which may be worn open or closed, has an oblong sleeve open at the wrist which hangs down in the traditional manner. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut, and the front part has the arc cut away. The doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves. It may be worn open or closed.

Black is the recommended color for all academic gowns. Bachelor's and master's gowns are untrimmed. Doctor's gowns are faced with black velvet, with three bars across the sleeves; or the color of the velvet may be that which is distinctive to the degree, agreeing with that of the edging of the hood. The colors you will see in the hoods and gowns of our faculty represent the various fields in which the degrees were taken:

Apricot.....Nursing
Brown..... Fine Arts
Citron..... Social Work
Crimson..... Journalism
Dark Blue..... Philosophy
Golden Yellow Science
Green Medicine
Lemon-Yellow Library Science
Light Blue..... Education
Lilac.....Dentistry
Maroon Home Economics
Olive-Green..... Pharmacy

OrangeEngineering
Pink Music
Purple..... Law
Sage Green..... Physical Education
Salmon Pink Public Health
ScarletTheology
Slate Blue.... Occupational Therapy
TealPhysical Therapy
Yellow-Brown Commerce,
Business, Accountancy
White.....Arts, Letters, Humanities

The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees, bachelor's, master's and doctor's, are lined with the official colors of the university or college conferring the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Hoods are edged and bound with velvet of the color appropriate for the degree. You will see in our procession many edged with the dark blue, for doctor of philosophy.

Mortar boards are the approved headgear. The tassel, worn on the left side of the cap, may be of gold if the holder has a doctor's degree.

Of Special Note

Student members of the ECU chapter of Phi Kappa Phi wear braided navy and gold honor cords. Phi Kappa Phi is the nation's oldest, largest and most selective collegiate honor society that inducts top baccalaureate and higher degree candidates in all disciplines. Initiates of Phi Kappa Phi must rank in the top 10% of their graduating class.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

John May

John May is a distinguished business leader, entrepreneur and proud graduate of East Carolina University. As the founder and managing partner of CORE Industrial Partners, a private equity firm with approximately $2 billion in assets under management, Mr. May has built one of the fastest-growing firms in the industry since its founding in 2017. CORE invests exclusively in lower middle-market manufacturing, industrial technology, and industrial services businesses, with offices in Chicago, Austin and Cleveland. Under Mr. May's leadership, the firm has completed 52 transactions since inception, reflecting its commitment to building lasting value through deep operational expertise.

As managing partner of CORE, Mr. May is responsible for all aspects of the firm's operations, including sourcing new investment opportunities, valuation, transaction structuring, acquisition financing and fundraising. He also serves on the board of directors for each of CORE's portfolio companies, which include Fathom, Vantage, Cohere, Kelvix, Cadrex, Uptive, 3dxtech, PrecisionX Group, Century Box, Aviation Concepts and Winky Lux. In a milestone moment for the firm, Mr. May rang the opening bell at the New York Stock Exchange with Fathom Digital Manufacturing in 2022, marking the company's public debut and reflecting CORE's ability to scale and transform lower middle-market businesses into market leaders.

A native of Greenville, North Carolina, Mr. May attended Wahl-Coates Elementary and graduated from Greenville Christian Academy, with a graduating class of just 24 students. He went on to graduate with honors from East Carolina University in 1993, earning a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (BSBA) with a double concentration in management and management information systems that has been the foundation for his career. Mr. May ran his first business in Raleigh at the age of 24 and later ran two other family-owned businesses, gaining firsthand experience in entrepreneurship and operations. He then spent 18 years as a seven-time president/CEO working on transactions with several private equity sponsors, principally with The Blackstone Group (NYSE: BX) and H.I.G. Capital.

Mr. May has remained steadfast in his support of ECU and its mission to serve the people of North Carolina. He currently serves on the ECU Foundation Inc. Board of Directors, including its Executive Committee, and has held the role of chair of the Investment Committee since 2022. Under his guidance, the Foundation has reached its highest level of assets under management, now exceeding $300 million, helping to strengthen ECU's financial position and expand its long-term impact.

In addition to his professional accomplishments, Mr. May is the co-founder and former chair of the Board of Imerman Angels, a nonprofit based in Chicago that provides personalized cancer support. He is also an active member of the Young Presidents' Organization and The Economic Club of Chicago and proudly served on the Reagan Institute's bipartisan Task Force on National Security and U.S. Manufacturing Competitiveness, where he contributed private-sector expertise to support efforts to rebuild and secure America's manufacturing capabilities and critical supply chains. Mr. May holds a Level I Sommelier accreditation from the International Sommelier Guild.

He currently splits his time between Chicago and Austin with his wife and son.

HANNAH BLACKBURN

Major: Engineering, Biomedical

Hannah founded the ECU Chapter of the Helping Hand Project in April 2022 and served as president for two years before supporting the group in an advisory role. She hosted guest speakers and a discussion panel to explore the life of prosthetic users, oversaw the creation of 3D-printed assistive devices, and collaborated with College of Health and Human Performance national chapters to foster local community engagement. Hannah has been involved in leadership with Tau Beta Pi (Engineering Honor Society), Society of Women Engineers and Biomedical Engineering Society throughout her time at ECU. These organizations have allowed her to reconnect the groups with ECU alumni, coordinate local STEM fundraisers, and organize a statewide engineering exploration event. Through her Engineering Senior Capstone project, Hannah has led efforts to 3D model a sustainable attachment to meet the needs of patients reached by Pitt County prosthetic mission work in developing African countries. After graduation, she plans to work in biotechnology, medical device research and development in Research Triangle Park, North Carolina.

CHRISTINE CHAN

Major: Biology and Environmental Studies

During her time at ECU, Christine has been deeply committed to understanding and addressing environmental issues, inspiring her community to actively protect the environment. She serves as a Campus Fellow for the North Carolina Conservation Network, collecting over 200 petitions advocating for increased wetland protection and leading significant get-out-the-vote initiatives. Christine believes in learning through teaching, mentoring WaterCorps students and serving as a Teaching Assistant for several Biology and SCUBA courses. She also volunteers at the North Carolina Estuarium, where she supports its mission to celebrate the nature and culture of the Albemarle-Pamlico Peninsula. Christine has researched the movements and effects of microplastics in estuaries at ECU and the University of Delaware, studied sea turtle life history at the Duke University Marine Lab, and examined the impacts of ocean acidification and warming on invertebrate physiology at the NOAA Alaska Fisheries Science Center Kodiak Laboratory. After graduation, Christine plans to further her experience in marine science, focusing on education and outreach.

ALEXANDER FISHER

Major: Biochemistry

Raised in Hickory, Alex Fisher is an Honors College student graduating with a degree in Biochemistry. While at ECU, Alex created the first ever Campus EMS agency, which responds to 911 emergencies on campus, staffs sporting events, and provides emergency education. Additionally, working with the Compress and Shock Foundation, Alex has trained over 1,200 people in bystander CPR and has given out 45 free AEDs to underserved communities in eastern North Carolina. The success of his bystander CPR program led him to be published as the first author in the JACEP. He is also the founder of the Honors Ambassador Program, which enhances recruitment efforts of the Honors College to bring more competitive students to ECU. After graduation, Alex will be attending medical school at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine. He will also be commissioning in the United States Navy, where he will serve his country as a Naval Physician.

ALESSIO FRATARCANGELI

Major: Biology

During his time at ECU, Alessio has been an undergraduate assistant and lead tutor at the Pirate Academic Success Center for courses such as Principles of Genetics, Cell and Developmental Biology, and Organic Chemistry I/II, assisting over 500 students in his roles. Additionally, Alessio is the program coordinator for Farm2Clinic, a program through the Department of Nutrition that seeks to connect produce, nutrition and health education to the uninsured of eastern North Carolina. In this role, Alessio has coordinated with farmers, food banks, and a network of student volunteers to harvest over 50,000 lbs. of produce for those in need across this region. Alessio has further supported this community through his work in the Fresh Start program as a health navigator and core team member. He has taken numerous roles in this program such as leading community group classes about nutrition, health education, physical activity and cooking; and providing one-on-one individualized care for uninsured eastern North Carolinians. By aiding participants in setting and maintaining goals that address numerous barriers, he has provided them with social and educational support to empower themselves to manage and prevent chronic illnesses such as diabetes, obesity and hypertension. Alessio plans to carry this knowledge with him throughout his journey to become a future physician. Following graduation, Alessio will begin his studies as a medical school student at the Brody School of Medicine and a Brody Scholar for the class of 2029.

JETHRO LIBUTAN

Major: Computer Science

Originally from Durham, Jethro is a Brinkley-Lane Scholar in the Honors College, studying in the College of Engineering and Technology with a major in Computer Science and a minor in Music. He served as the student lead on a $1.2 million U.S. Army-funded research project focused on developing a new airdrop database and website to improve mission planning for the 82nd Airborne Division. He also helped launch the first website for Farm2Clinic, a free community health initiative that provides healthcare to uninsured, low-income patients with diabetes, obesity and cardiometabolic risk in eastern North Carolina. Jethro is active in ECU's Musical Theatre department, where he rehearsed and performed as the keyboardist for the industry reading and public performances of Wild Heart, a new musical by Chelsea Marcantel. He has played in ECU's jazz ensembles and combos and performs at events and venues throughout Greenville. After graduation, he plans to work at a mission-driven company that strives to make a positive impact on the world.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY'S MACE, LOGO AND SEAL

The mace, a medieval weapon, has become through the centuries an insignia of university authority. In this instance it represents the continuity of the institutional governing body.

Some 43 inches long and weighing approximately 14 pounds, the East Carolina University mace is constructed of sterling silver. It features a unique purple fluorite crystal cluster contained within a gold-plated cage. The shaft of the mace has a hammered texture and is divided in the center by a pierced band. The pierced design is repeated at the mace boss (symbolic head) and terminus. The terminus is a representation of the historical weapon head which has diminished in size as the mace has changed from a weapon to a symbol. The same representation of symbolic use has increased the size and importance of the boss or mace head. The mace bears the inscription East Carolina University 1907.

This handsome mace was designed and executed by the late John Satterfield of the Design Department of the East Carolina University School of Art, who commented on the design concept: In designing the East Carolina University mace I have attempted to maintain the visual integrity of a traditional mace and at the same time create a contemporary symbol which is unique to this institution.

We share a bold vision. Big goals. Great opportunities. Getting there means telling the ECU story in an equally bold way.

The university logo is a central component of ECU's brand identity. The logo is a stylized illustration of the most iconic architecture on the beautiful ECU campus: the Cupola. The Cupola is a copy of the ornamental structure that once graced the top of Old Austin, the original administration building.

Look closely at the logo and you'll see a representation of our students in cap and gown, underlining this university's commitment to student success.

ECU's logo — like the logos of other national universities over hundreds of years of higher education — also includes a shield, contributing to a sense of heraldry, gravitas and stature. This is paired with the letters ECU, in type that is both bold and fitting for the institution's personality.

The official East Carolina University seal is a six-cornered shield encased in a circular border containing the name, location, and founding date of the University. It appears on the diploma. The shield represents the shield of trust, as was used in the Crusades.

The university's motto, Servire — meaning To Serve — is emblazoned on the scroll. The blazing torch and the open Book of Knowledge symbolize education and the service rendered to the students by the University. The ink pot and quill, symbols of scribes, represent the creative arts and the contributions of the students to the world of business. The pirate is the school mascot.

The central motif of the design—a shield within the shield with Polaris, the guiding star, behind the two half globes that make up the world—expresses the idea that East Carolina University has the mission to educate graduates who will serve to the four corners of the world.

Actual honors are awarded based on calculations at the conclusion of the student's final term of enrollment.

The Commencement Program is printed prior to administering final examinations. Therefore, the inclusion of names of degree candidates in this program is not certification that degree requirements have been satisfactorily completed.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

*Oh! say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
Oh! say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*

– Francis Scott Key

ALMA MATER

*Praise to your name so fair,
dear old East Carolina
Your joys we'll all share,
and your friends we'll ever be.
We pledge our loyalty
and our heart's devotion
To thee, our alma mater, love and praise.*

– Harold MacDougle '44
